TRULY it is a wonderful University that we attend and great is our privilege in attending it! Think of 2100 students already enrolled at this time of the year, which means at least 2300 students in the catalogue. The country affords no parallel to the growth of our University, and though but fifty-three years old we lead Harvard and Yale in attendance and are fully their equals in standard and instruction. The time is come when it means as much if not more to own the U. of M. as one's Alma Mater than to hail from any other University in our land. Eastern prejudice, fostered by ignorance of the facts, is breaking down and to-day we stand the peer of any American institution of learning. Let us appreciate this and try to be worthy members of so grand an organization.

THE CHRONICLE-ARGONAUT needs neither introduction or excuse to the student or alumnus for its appearance; rather is it open to congratulations. The well recognized fact that a consolidation of the two papers was highly desirable, well-nigh inevitable, has borne fruit in the present paper. It has been no easy task to bring about a satisfactory union, and the successful accomplishment is therefore all the more to be appreciated. What, then, is the CHRONICLE-ARGONAUT? It is a weekly paper, giving all the news of the week, and at the same time containing a literary element in its contents. It is neither exclusively a news gatherer nor wholly a literary magazine but aims at a happy medium. The guarantee that it will be well edited and published is that its board is composed of the combined strength of both the old papers and is made up equally from the two great political parties, the Fraternities and Independents. This makes us the sole representative publication of the University, with the exception of the Oracle, and assures a fair and impartial treatment of every question touching the interests of any member of the student community. Again, we interfere with no other publication, we have a field of our own, broader it may be than any other but antagonistic to nobody. We do believe however, that if a choice be made by the student, that we offer a better inducement to subscribers in this, than we could in any other form. A paper formed of two, one twenty-two years old, the other twelve, giving news and literary matter alike, edited by a representative board and with a low subscription price, should certainly commend itself to all. However, we are willing to stand on the judgment of our readers, feeling sure that it will be favorable. It is impossible for those uninitiated into the mysteries of college journalism to conceive how many difficulties beset the issuing of a first number, and when to these are added those arising from the combination of two boards with different methods and customs regarding the paper, the task becomes ten-fold greater. It has been impossible to fully organize our board this week and this number is issued as best it can be. When our next number appears we shall have been fully organized and in good working order. The board will be composed of a managing editor and business manager, each with two assistants, and the remainder of the board will work under six departments, thus giving each editor his place and insuring a thoroughly systematic working of the editorial machine. This is no apology, for we need none, but is an explanation due our readers, who should bear it in mind in judging our work.

OUR NEW MEN.

Every year brings many changes both in the work offered and in those offering the work, and this year has been no exception to the rule. A glance over the announcement will show that we have an almost entirely new corps of tutors and that some radical changes have been made in the work, most noticeably in Latin. The much needed instructors in History and Greek have been added. Von Holst is amplified and, alas, sanitary science is withdrawn. Some brief notice of the new faces in the class rooms may not be out of place, for the new members of the faculty are all men of whom the University may be proud.

Dr. Rolfe, who is to fill the place of assistant professor Drake, while the latter is pursuing his studies at various German universities, was born at Cambridge, Mass., in the year 1860. At Harvard he took his degree of A. B., and later that of Ph. D. at Cornell. In 1888 he was engaged as instructor at Harvard, and during this year published his scholarly and elegant edition of Macaulay's "Lays of Ancient Rome." Last year he studied at the American School at Athens, of which work the students in his courses in Archæology and inscriptions will receive the benefit. Dr. Rolfe is known also as a contributor to the American Journal of Archæology.

Mr. C. Marden, instructor in French, graduated with the class of '89, at Johns Hopkins University. Since graduation he has been professor of modern languages at the Academy of Norfolk, Va. During the summer he has been in Europe, devoting his attention to his specialty, the Romance languages.

Dr. W. K. Clement, who will assist in the Latin department this year, was born in New England in 1863, and graduated as A. B. from Colby College, Me., in 1884. The next two years were spent at Jena, and the following two at Leipzig, in the study of Greek and Latin. He received the degree of Ph. D. from the latter place and an A. M. from Colby in 1888, and has since been engaged in teaching the classics in Lake Forest University. Dr. Clement is a thorough student and will in all likelihood greatly increase the debt we already owe to Lake Forest.

One of the most remarkable of the new men is

Mr. Winkler, instructor of German. Born in Vienna in 1864, he attended the gymnasia of that city until the age of 16, when he removed to America. After four years spent in the Cincinnati High School, he went to Harvard, receiving an A. B. from there in 1889, and winning highest honors in a class of 240. During the past year he has been assistant professor of literature at Kansas University, at the same time working on a thesis on Goethe for his Ph. D. degree. He is also getting out a work on German literature of the eighteenth century. Mr. Winkler is a vigorous worker, and one of those who are bound to succeed.

Our new classical instructor, Edwin W. Fay, received the degree of A. M. from South Western University, Tenn., in 1883, and until 1886 taught the classics in Mississippi and Texas. The next three years he passed at Johns Hopkins, holding the scholarship one year and the fellowship two years. His major studies were Sanskrit and Comparative Philology, while his minors were Greek and Latin. At the same time he made himself acquainted with Prakrit, the vulgar dialect of Sanskrit, Zend, and Gothic. Mr. Fay will have entire charge of Sanskrit in the University, and will also lend much assistance to the Latin and Greek departments.

Dr. Markley, the new assistant in Mathematics, is a graduate of the Westchester State Normal School, Penn., and of the Quaker College at Haverford. He received a Ph. D. from Harvard in 1886. Lately he has been engaged in teaching higher mathematics in Harvard, and will be a valuable addition to the faculty.

F. C. Newcombe, lit '90, U. of M., is appointed as instructor in Botany. Besides his university work, which embraced all courses offered in his line, Mr. Newcombe has studied in the East, been employed by the Department of Agriculture, and has also done considerable original work in Botany.

Mr. Levi, instructor in French, is a graduate both of the Ann Arbor High School and the University of Michigan, being one of the class of '87. From 1887 to 1889 Mr. Levi has been engaged in teaching in Chicago, and last year studied at the University of Paris. His energetic work thus far prophesies good results.

The selection of Prof. F. M. Taylor to fill the chair of Political Economy is another example of the choice of the right man in the right place.

Prof. Taylor was born at Northville, Mich., in 1855, preparing for college at Mt. Clemens. He selected the Northwestern University to prepare him for the intellectual pursuit toward which he early inclined. In 1876 he completed his course with honors, in his senior year representing his institution in an inter-collegiate association and then early foreshadowing his ability by securing first prize for an essay on English Literature and second in the Psychology examination. Prof. Carhart was then an instructor in Evanston and was a firm believer in a bright future for Mr. Taylor. In 1879 the professor received his M. A. and at once accepted the chair of Political Economy at Albion College, which he has occupied until now. As a teacher the students held him in highest regard, and as a member of the Faculty he has given his impress upon the best advances of that institution.

During a leave of absence in 1882 he pursued graduate work at Johns Hopkins, and traveled abroad. Soon after returning, a graduate course was entered upon at the U. of M., and in 1888 the degree of Ph. D. was conferred upon him.

Dr. Taylor has contributed articles yearly to the annual published by Albion College, and is the author of an article in the Moderator on Morals in the Public Schools. In February last a paper entitled the Ethical Standard of Legislation was read before the Political Science Association, and the doctor is now preparing a paper for the January number of the American Academy of Social and Political Science Quarterly.

Mr. Swiggett, instructor in German having charge especially of the Engineering courses, is a graduate of the University of Indiana, class of '88, having studied in that institution under Jagemann & Karsten. Up to the fall of last year he did post-graduate work at that institution, and then transferred the scene of his studies to Johns Hopkins, where he remained until the summer of this year. During last summer Mr. Swiggett carried on his studies at the Sauveur School of Vermont, and also in Lower Canada.

Mr. Hench, one of the new instructors in German, is a native of Carlyle, Penn., having been born there in 1866. He graduated from Lafayette College in the class of '85, and from then on pursued his studies at Johns Hopkins, holding the fellowship for German during 1888-'89. In the latter year he received the degree of Ph. D. Since then Mr. Hench has been studying in Germany, and brings to his work here much of value that can be acquired only in such institutions as those of Heidelberg and Berlin.

Dr. McPherson, the new instructor in History, is a Johns Hopkins man, having received his A. B. there in 1888. He held the Fellowship in History during 1889 and 1890 and had the degree of Ph. D. conferred upon him in the latter year. Dr. McPherson's appointment will do much to relieve the pressure on the instructors in history.

COURSES ADDED THIS YEAR.

Every year finds in the University announcements a great gain in the number and importance of the courses offered, and the literary department in particular is more than keeping pace in the growth of the institution.

A limited class in Greek will make a general study of the History of Greek Art up to the Roman period, based on Von Reber's and Collignon's works on the subject. Prof. Pattengill will probably offer a course in the Greek Bucolic Poets next semester. In Latin, Prof. Kelsey gives a lecture course on the Methods, Province, and Scope of Classical Philosophy. Several changes have also been made in old Latin courses. Courses have been arranged for the study of Hebrew and Assyrian, but the latter will probably be withdrawn.

In German, Prof. Thomas offers a course in the History of German Literature, while Mr. Winkler will have a class in the Literature of the Reformation period. In History, courses are added in Advanced Constitutional History of England, in the History and Institutions of Greece and Rome and in the French Revolution. Courses in Physiological Psychology, Caird's Critical Philosophy of Kant, Aesthetics, and Ethical Problems are offered in Philosophy, besides a Seminary in the History and Philosophy of Religion. Music, Chemistry and Astronomy offer a large variety of work than ever heretofore, while Mathematics presents new courses in Higher Plane Curves, Advanced Mechanics and Modern Geometry.

Prof. F. M. Taylor proposes to make the Seminary in Economics as pleasant as possible. He has changed the hours of recitation to the afternoon and will take up discussions on the silver bill, the McKinley bill, and taxation. There are only six persons in the class, and Professor Taylor has arranged to have an hour private discussion with each one during the week.

U. OF M. ORATORICAL ASSOCIATION.

The attention of all students is called to the newly organized Oratorical Association. By the action of the delegates assembled here last June, the Northern Oratorical League was organized. The other colleges represented in the League are Oberlin, Northwestern University, and the University of Wisconsin, all of which have well organized and well supported Oratorical Associations, which will prove strong competitors in the race. Every student in the University should join the Association. It is expected that every classman will take special interest in the representative of his class in the home contest.

The first annual contest of the local Association will be held about March 20, 1891.

To those who contemplate entering the contest a few words of information may be in place at this time. It is to be noted that:

1. All contestants must be members of the Association, and that no one is eligible who has an academic degree.

2. Should more than the number allowed to any one class present themselves as candidates, the proper number shall be chosen at preliminary rehearsals, by judges who shall be selected by the executive committee, from any of the faculties of the University, or from any outside of the faculties who are competent to act as judges. In the literary department the senior class shall have two representatives, the junior class one, and the sophomore class one; in the law department the senior class shall have two representatives, and the junior class one.

3. The contestants in the annual contest shall present their names and manuscripts to the secretary, at least fifteen (15) days before the annual contest.

4. Orations shall not contain more than 2000 words.

5. As testimonials of success in the contests of this Association, there shall be awarded as first honor, SEVENTY-FIVE DOLLARS; as second honor, FIFTY DOLLARS.

6. As testimonial of success in the contests of the LEAGUE, there shall be awarded to the person receiving the first honor, ONE HUNDRED DOLLARS; to the one receiving the second honor, FIFTY DOLLARS.

There will be a meeting of the Association at 7:30 p. m., Friday, Oct 17, in Room 24, for the purpose of adopting the Northern Oratorical League Constitution, and amending the U. of M. Association Constitution, so as to bring it into conformity with that of the League.

Let all members be in attendance promptly at 7:30 p. m.

Membership fees may be paid to Prof. Trueblood, Mr. Baldwin, law '91, or to J. L. Haner, who will be at the Steward's office each day next week from 1:45 to 3:15 p. m.

J. L. HANER, Pres.

Dr. H. C. Adams and wife are sojourning, for the present, in the Catskills.

Prof. M. E. Cooley and Prof. Greene did not meet their classes last Wednesday. Both were in Lansing attending the meeting of the board of directors of the Michigan Engineering Society. The honor of the presidency of the society has been bestowed upon Prof. J. B. Davis of the University.

The most complete work of its kind that has come to our notice this year, is "A Guide to the Literature of Aesthetics," by C. M. Gayley and F. N. Scott. It is issued as the "University of California Library Bulletin, No. 2." The names of its authors alone are sufficient to assure its worth and it is hard to see how it could be more complete. As the preface says, it is "mainly a list of the books consulted, in two libraries, during the preparation of lectures on Aesthetics, and of a textbook on Literary Criticism." The scope is broad and general and minute classifications have been avoided. Altogether, the book is invaluable to the student of Aesthetics and will lessen his work fully one-half.

The U. of M. contingent at the University of California now consists of Profs. Gayley, Lange, and Haskell, and O. H. Leuschner, '88, who has been made Instructor in Mathematics.

Fred King, lit. '91, is an engineer in the employ of the Holly water works at Denver, Col. He has a very fine position and has advanced through a series of promotions, obtained by good work in the interest of the company.

John A. Jameson, '91, has been elected president of the University Glee and Banjo club.

W. F. Hubbard who intended to return this semester is sick at his home in Monroe, Mich.

O. C. Smith, lit. '90, is holding down the position of city surveyor's assistant in Ottawa, Ill.

Carl Warden was engaged during the summer as money order clerk at the Ocean Grove, N. J., post office.

J. B. Smalley, formerly lit '91, was in the city last week. During his stay, he was confined to his bed by illness for three days, but recovered sufficiently to make the return trip to his home at Bay City, practicable.

Mr. Louis C. Hill, Prof. Carhart's assistant last year, was married in September to Miss Gertrude Rose, lit. '89, of this city. Mr. and Mrs. Hill are now at home in Denver, Col., where Mr. Hill occupies the chair of assistant professor of physics in the University of Colorado.

Prof. Adams writes us from Blue Mountain Lake, N. Y., as follows:

I desire very much that the student community should not gain the impression that the work in Political Economy will suffer from my absence for part of the coming year, and I shall be obliged if you will insert a note in the first issue of your paper stating the nature of the work to be done. The facts are as follows: The first semester's work will be conducted by Professor F. M. Taylor, of Albion college, who is a Doctor of Philosophy of the U. of M. The elementary work of the first semester will be required of students electing advanced work the second semester. The second semester's work will consist chiefly of lectures on practical economic problems, which are to be given by several eminent economists. Professor Richmond M. Smith, and Dr. E. R. A. Seligman, of Columbia College, New York City, Professor J. W. Jenks, of Indiana State University, and Dr. Albert Shaw, of Minneapolis, have consented to lecture. Each will treat some definite topic. I myself shall return in May, and lecture during May and June. It seems to me this opportunity to hear professors from other institutions is one that should be highly appreciated.

ABOUT COLLEGE.

The class in Faust is larger this year than ever before.

Henry Haug will again lead the Banjo and Guitar Club this year.

A new 200-arc plant has been purchased for the physiological laboratory.

The class in psychology this semester is very large; the whole number is 205.

Prof. Scott will have charge of a bible class at St. Andrews Church beginning the first Sunday in November.

Prof. Pattengill is making the studies in Attic orators seminary work. The first report will be Nov. 13, on Antiphon.

Mr. Sunderland repeats by request his sermon on "Cardinal Newman," at the Unitarian Church next Sunday evening.

H. G. Rowe and F. W. Nagler of the Senior class have been appointed as assistants to Prof. Carhart in the physical laboratory.

Every freshman wants to get in his election blank before Monday night and thus save himself and Prof. de Pont endless useless work.

Professor Stanley's courses in music have attained a surprising popularity. The pleasant address of the instructor goes a long way in adding to the success of his work.

The class in Psychology is so large that a division into sections was found necessary. Professor Dewey will be in charge of one section and Mr. Tufts will have the others.

The Choral Union will present during the year, Aus der Ohe, Nov. 1st; New York Philharmonic Club, Dec. 10th; Boston Symphony Orchestra in May. There could not be a better program arranged.

The Freshman class at Yale this year is the largest class that has ever entered the walls of that university, numbering nearly 400. Yale is hoping soon to come up in numbers to Harvard and the University of Michigan.

Almost 2,400 students. Biggest University on the continent. As many courses offered as at any University in America. And still the only place that can be provided for the football eleven is the basement of the medical building. Did anybody say anything about a gym?

The Glee Club held examinations last evening at 7 o'clock in Room 24.

The freshman co-ed spread takes place next Friday night at Nickels' hall.

The class in Aesthetics will probably be granted the use of the East Seminary room.

The new Dean of the Law Department will be chosen by the Regents on Oct. 15th.

The Ann Arbor electric street cars seem to be catching their share of student patronage.

Kappa Kappa Gamma is the latest sorority to swing out. It would seem that this field was getting too crowded for comfort.

The chapel choir is the same as last year: C. P. McAllaster, Will H. Dorrance, R. M. Reid, and R. B. Doughty. E. M. Doughty presides at the organ.

The fiat has gone forth that there will be no rush this year. Why not pick elevens? We recommend this idea to the sophs who do the challenging.

A meeting of the U. of M. Wheelmen will be held in the law building Monday evening, Oct. 13, at 7.30. Business of an important nature will be presented, and it is especially urged that new wheelmen be present.

The Dramatic Club held its first meeting last Wednesday evening. The club starts with larger membership and brighter prospects than ever before and will soon put into rehearsal something a little more pretentious than heretofore attempted.

The Keystone Court Club is on its feet again. On Monday night the following officers were elected: Chief Justice, F. J. Lynch; Associate Justice, B. F. Chase; Clerk, J. M. Hunter; Sheriff, R. R. Jamieson; Prosecuting Attorney, G. W. Brown.

The Students' Bible Class of the Unitarian Church will have for its work the first part of this year, a study of "The Origins of the World, Society, Morals, and Religion." The class is taught by Mrs. Sunderland and meets at noon in the main audience room of the church.

The glorious base ball banner winners of law '90, are on exhibition in Sheehan's window in the form of a photograph. Gibson says the only fault he has to find with the picture is that it can not convey a correct idea of the enormity of their pride and their ear splitting yell.

About six hundred students attended chapel Sunday.

Prof. Kelsey is conducting chapel exercises during the absence of President Angell. The subject of his address at the Sunday meeting will be "Some Certainties about Religion."

The Students Christian Association gave their initial social of the college year last night, and the affair was a grand success. The association men are highly elated at the increased strength of their organization this year.

It seriously looked as if several of the freshmen who matriculated in the dental department would be "frozen out" this year. An arrangement has been effected, however, and the prospective teeth doctors will be allowed to remain.

President Angell is spending the latter part of the week in Minneapolis, where he is attending the annual meeting of the Foreign Mission Board of the Congregational church. He will return to his office and will resume the pleasant work of answering freshmen's questions on Monday.

The Oracle prizes have been fixed as follows: Story, $15.00; Humorous Sketch, $10.00; Cartoon, $5.00; Design for Cover, $5.00; Dramatic Scene, choice of Goethe's, Dickens' or Poe's works, presented by Moore & Taber; Title Page, life size portrait of winner, from Gibson; Class Song, U. of M. banjo, contributed by L. IN MEMORIAM.

At a meeting of the Post Graduates of the Law class of '90, called to give suitable expression to their common sorrow at the untimely death of our brother Clare Palmer Tallman, on the 28th day of last June, and to render to his memory as a lawyer and classmate their sincere tribute of respect. It was unanimously Resolved, That we remember him not alone as honoring the profession he had chosen, he was a true man in all life's relations and duties, a thorough student, a warm friend and genial companion; that we tender to his bereaved parents our respectful sympathy in their sad affliction; that we cause these resolutions to be published in each of the college papers, and a copy of the same to be transmitted to the parents of the deceased.

ATHLETICS.

WHAT OUR RIVALS ARE DOING.

The Williams men are working well under trainer Winston and will be heard from, probably.

At Lafayette only six of their old men are back but they have formed a very fair team. In a recent game with Dickinson the score stood 52 to 0 in Lafayette's favor.

The Syracuse team is in practice and has been winning in games played with local elevens. But they will probably loose their center rush Rouse, as he has gone to Williams under very flattering inducements and will probably enter there.

The Columbia foot ball team under the captainship of Gildersleeve are working hard every day and are said to show much improvement over their last year's work. They are practicing at the N. Y. Brotherhood base ball grounds.

The University of Pennsylvania foot ball interests seem to be rather dazed. They talk about the new material for an eleven, lament the fact that so few of their old men are back, and yet so far as we can learn, no practice work has been done until the last few days.

The Lehigh people have been at training table since Sept. 15, and will present a strong team. Though they had six vacancies to fill, the new material has been well developed. Their rush line will be an improvement over last year though the work of the backs will lack sufficient experience.

GENERAL NOTES.

The tennis courts are in good use these days and the prospects are bright for a fall tournament. Among the new players, Shaw, a former Yale man, is doing some very fair work.

The D. A. C. victory in the amateur base-ball championship series over the New Jersey Athletic Club is a University victory as well, for our own Codd pitched all five games and Marker did duty in the field, and especially, as of old, at the bat.

There was a meeting of the Rugby Association in Room A, this morning at 10:30, for the consideration of general foot ball interests. Next week will be the most important practice week of the training season and it will be upon the basis of the work done then that the pennant team will be chosen. The team for this afternoon's game with Albion was composed of the following men: Van Inwagen, right end; Malley, right tackle; Sutherland, right guard; Chadbourne, center rush; Wainer, left guard; Sam Sherman, left tackle; Roger Sherman, left end; Jewett, right half back; Grosh, left half back; Dugert, full back.

It is more than likely that the Regents at their next meeting, Oct. 15, will do something in regard to the long talked of athletic field. This summer, figures were given on a tract of land comprising the southern end of the old fair grounds and some of the surrounding ground. Secretary Wade and Major Soule have looked over this tract and are well pleased with it. There are a good many things in its favor and one is that the electric cars run right to the spot and will do so every trip, we understand, if this plot of ground is finally accepted by the Regents. But wherever it is, we hope that the Regents will see the urgent necessity of the action and grant us what we want.

Football is booming, and let the good work go on. Greater enthusiasm is being manifested in the game this year than ever before, and the prospects for a good eleven were never better. Still everybody who has ever played foot ball or who thinks he would like to play should turn out for practice, as the endeavor is to get the best possible men for the positions. Don't be afraid to come out, men. You are not going to be killed and you may turn out an Ames or a Crawford. In this University there is more material to pick from than in any other college in the country and there is no good reason why we should not have the best college eleven if all the available men would only turn out for work every day. There are going to be two teams this year and it is the intention to take them both on the trip. If you can't get on the first eleven you may get on the second. The definite time for the trip has not yet been determined, but the manager of the team, Geo. P. Codd '91 is now in the East completing the necessary arrangements. As the case now stands we have open dates with Lafayette, Lehigh, Amherst, Williams, University of Pennsylvania, Rochester and Syracuse. The Cornell game has been fixed for Nov. 15, in Buffalo, and the Cornell people want to play a return game in Ann Arbor if they make their proposed western trip. The Pittsburg Foot Ball Association and the manager of the Columbia eleven have also written regarding games. Surely from all this it would seem that our fame has spread abroad and if we get the same kind of a boom from the inside that we do from the outside there is no earthly reason why we should not be sure winners. Dates for home games have been secured with the M. A. C. of Detroit, the Notre Dame eleven from South Bend, Albion and the D. A. C.

Year after year the foot ball rush between fresh and soph has been called brutal and useless and as many times has the abolition of the custom been discussed without anything having ever been done. But this year the Rugby Association are going to act. They want an inter-class Rugby league formed on the same basis as the inter-class base ball league of last spring which proved so successful. A banner will be presented to the winning class. Surely there is no better way than this to bring out all the foot ball talent existing. The class games would be interesting and there would necessarily be a more wide-spread interest regarding the game than at present exists among the students. In this way more men will be playing every year and there will be more men to select from in picking out the 'Varsity team. In the old rush days the rush generally occupied three Saturdays at least and took so much interest and attention from the Rugby people. Now the eleven that we send east to play our games has a chance to do more for the University in the athletic line than these yearly rushes can ever do. Therefore we should do all in our power to make this eleven representing the University the strongest possible.

The team this year would be one-third better if the college work closed at four o'clock every afternoon. As it is now, four of the best men are prevented from regular practice on account of college work after the hour named. In most of the eastern colleges athletics have no such difficulty to contend with and prosper accordingly.

In looking at the practice work on the campus one thing is very noticeable, and that is that the men are being taught to play as a team and not as individuals and that is surely the correct idea. More tricks and more tactics are being practiced than in the last three or four years put together and we hope for the best results. Yet as regards the playing one great trouble with the men seems to be that they don't follow the ball and don't play enough with their heads. Then some of the plays, the men seem to be afraid to make as, for instance, the arm guard in making a run.

The training table is promised as a sure thing for next Monday by Prettyman. It would have been ready before but for some delay caused by the carpenters. The bath rooms in the basement of the medical building will soon be ready for use too.

And now remember that if we are to have a creditable foot ball team to represent us away from home this team must receive a good financial backing at the hands of the students. As heretofore, the membership tickets for the Rugby association will cost but one dollar, but don't stop at this if you can possibly give more. The majority of those who do pay the one could as easily pay two dollars, and surely this ought to be done. When we consider the splendid backing given college athletics in the east we ought to blush at our own weak efforts and really do something worthy of our cause.

Whene'er I had a letter,

'Twas sure to be a bill addressed

To "Jonas Snelling, Dr."

But now I drive a dashing pair,

I own a handsome dwelling,

And letters come with checks addressed

To "Dr. Jonas Snelling."

AT EVENING.

The sun had kissed the western wave

And bade the world good night,

While in the sky the little clouds

Hung blushing at the sight.

The little waves came laughing in

From out on the rolling sea,

And paused a moment on the sands

And kissed them merrily.

The evening breezes gently played

About the boulders bare

And kissed their loneliness away,

And lingered fondly there.

A youth and maiden walked the while,

I tell no wondrous deed,

When twilight's shadows kissed the shore

He followed Nature's lead.

GOOD-BYE TO THE SUMMER GIRL.

What have you to remember?

 What have I to forget?

Laughter, jests and trifling—lilies
 With dewdrops wet.

Which of us was in earnest,

 Which of us was in jest,
When the lilies' breathing fragrance
 Died slowly on your breast?

There's nothing to remember,

 There's nothing to forget,
But laughter, jests and trifling,
 And yet—and yet—and yet—

The University of Berlin, with its 6,000 students and scores of famous professors, has a capital of but $750,000. Its largest endowment, that of the Countess Bose, is only $150,000. Nevertheless, it is the seat of the highest German learning and claims to have the ablest corps of instructors of all the world's schools.

The Minnesota State University is endeavoring to establish its ownership to a seventy pound aerolite which recently fell near Forest City, Ia. The aerolite is claimed by the owner of the land on which it fell, and by the University, which purchased it of the tenant. An interesting legal question is involved. The University was defeated in its replevin suit to recover the property, but has appealed.

The new gymnasium at Yale will cost $200,000. President W. A. Quale, of Baker University, Baldwin, Kansas, is less than thirty years old, and enjoys the distinction of being probably the youngest college president in the world.

Harvard now offers a three years' course, for which the degree A. B. is conferred. Columbia proposes to accomplish the same end by opening professional courses to seniors as electives.

A pledge of $1,000,000 to the new Baptist University of Chicago was conveyed to the trustees of the institution in a letter from John D. Rockafeller, who has already given to the University $600,000.

Arthur S. Abernethy, professor of ancient languages at Rutherford College, N. C., is said to be the youngest full-fledged professor in this country. He is only eighteen and has already won some notoriety as a classical scholar.

Sixty-seven seniors and ninety-two juniors at Yale University elect Old Testament literature, two lessons a week for next year, the Old Testament being the only text book. Oriental history, with special references to the Bible, will be a required study in the freshman class.

Alvan D. Clark, the noted telescope maker, is making the lens for a telescope for the Southern California University. It will be three feet four inches in diameter and two and one half inches thick at the edge. Three years will be required for its completion and it will cost $70,000.

A plan is on foot to establish in New York City a national University, to be modeled after the great institutions of Europe, with an endowment at the outset of $20,000,000. Mr. John D. Rockefeller and Rev. R. S. MacArthur, of the Baptist church, are the promoters of the enterprise.

Gr. Merrill Gates, formerly president of Rutgers College, but lately elected president of Oberlin, graduated at Rochester University, at the age of twenty-two, with the highest standing then attained there. He is now forty-two years of age. He has declined the presidency of Oberlin and accepted that of Amherst.

To speak in a general way, neither Elihu Yale nor John Harvard gave enough money to the founding of a college to support a modern young gentleman through his college course.

SHE MIGHT AS WELL.

Too diffident he was to kiss
The maiden by his side,
Although he loved the winsome miss
And sought her for his bride.

Said he, as in the twilight's gray
They wandered up and down,
"An anti-kissing club, they say,
Has just been formed in town."

"Do you intend to join?" She sighed,
And as her lashes fell
O'er cheeks with crimson blushes dyed,
Replied, "I might as well."

Is it not generally the girl with the most beaux who gets married first. It is the little grave, demure girl who sits in the corner with one young man and hangs on to him.

CUTTING.

"Who is the best man
On the staff?"
Asked a maiden
Shy and sweet,
As she glanced adown
The columns of
The weekly college sheet.

The editor smiled
And winked his eye
At the fairy
Maid demure:
"The best man on
The paper? Why,
The scissors, to be sure."
